

NEVADA STATE JOURNAL. SUNDAY, APRIL 28, 1895. THE MONEY QUESTION. The money question is the subject of general discussion in the Ohio and Mississippi Valleys. The Chicago Record says the people of Illinois are discussing the subject at every grocery store and postoffice. Judge Hunter of Paris, Illinois, formerly a member of Congress, has published a letter, in which he says the gold standard is a new invention. Face to face with this great issue we now stand. What shall we do? Shall we desert the traditions of the fathers of the Republic? Shall we repudiate the principles of Thomas Jefferson, and Andrew Jackson, who so emphatically declared in favor of gold and silver as the money of the people? Shall we disregard the example of these great men, trample on their graves, and like miserable cowards get upon our knees and fall into line with Cleveland, Sherman and McKinley, who have brought more misery to the people and expense to the taxpayers than the four years' war between the North and the South?

To Indiana the wave of money discussion is high in all parts of the State. Even the school boys are taking sides on the question. Farmers lay off a day now and then and meet at the cross-roads store to compare notes about silver. Nothing else is discussed in the smaller cities and villages. The tariff question never stirred up so much discussion. The people are talking in an independent way, and say unless the Republican party or the Democratic party declare for free coinage, they will not vote with them again. The news stands and book stores say there never was such a demand for literature on the money question. Books on silver are in such demand that the book stores cannot supply copies. Silver advocates sit in front of stores and read the books aloud to farmers.

In Iowa the free coinage men are determined to call a convention at which the coinage men of national reputation will be invited to speak.

There is a general awakening throughout the West on the importance of the money question. Farmers find that the price of their products are lower than ever before. They attribute the cause to the demonetization of silver and they are in favor on removing that cause. If the party with which they have heretofore affiliated do not declare for free silver they are done with it and will vote for the party that does. They are now educating themselves on the financial question, and their disgust for the gold standard increases proportionately with their knowledge of the subject.

PRESIDENT HUNTINGTON VERY ANGRY. President C. P. Huntington of the Southern Pacific Company is very angry and the San Francisco Examiner says his hired men in that city are shivering over the anticipated snarl up when he arrives on the coast. Some are taking extra doses of quinine to ward off the shakes, and it is expected that several of the bosses will be out of a job.

It appears that all the sins of omission and commission, and they are many, of the hired men, have been attributed by them to President Huntington. When intending settlers apply for railroad lands and find the price too exorbitant, they are told that the price is fixed by Mr. Huntington. When shippers complain of the injustice of charging about three times as much for a carload of freight from Chicago to Reno, as is charged for a similar carload to Sacramento, 151 miles west of Reno, they are told that Mr. Huntington has so decreed and his orders must be obeyed. When the Company takes a hand in politics, as it generally does, the blame is attributed to Mr. Huntington, though Mr. Huntington says the road is out of politics, and possibly believes that he is telling the truth.

Since Mr. Huntington has been indicted by the United States Grand Jury for violating the Interstate Commerce Act, it appears that his eyes have been opened. He finds that as the nominal head of the octopus he is held responsible for what any and all of the tentacles do. Though in the East the greater part of the time, and much of that time, like President Cleveland, with a congress on his hands he is blamed for every act of the railroad company that is obnoxious to the people, in fact he is made the scapegoat of the company.

It is not surprising, therefore, that President Huntington should be angry at his hired men, as the Examiner says he is, especially if those hired men are the cause of the universal anger against a railroad, which it conducted on more liberal principles would be the most popular, as it is one of the most necessary institutions on the Coast. As it is Mr. Huntington is made to appear in the character of Ishmael, with his hand against every man and every man's hand against him.

A COMMITTEE consisting of a number of prominent citizens and business men, acting in behalf of the people of Nevada, have requested the Interstate Commerce Commission to spend a day in Reno and listen to the complaints of the people against unjust and exorbitant transportation rates. This is the first move made in the State to get the Commission to listen to the people and hear what they have to say in favor of enforcing the fourth section of the Interstate Commerce Act.

THE ILLINOIS DEMOCRATS. Will Split on the Currency Issue in Convention. TROOPS OCCUPY CORINTO. Durrant Charged With the Murder of Blanche Lamont. FORMALLY CHARGED WITH MURDER. The Inquest of Blanche Lamont to Commence this Week. SAN FRANCISCO, April 27.—Theodore Durrant was taken from his cell this morning and formally charged with the murder of Blanche Lamont. The prisoner was very surly. As he was being booked for the second murder, he said to Detective Seymour: "How many more crimes are you going to charge against me?" The inquest of Blanche Lamont will begin as soon as the preliminary examination of Durrant in the police court for the murder of Marian Williams is concluded, probably on Tuesday afternoon. The court proceedings are continued from Friday to Tuesday.

In the Superior Court Durrant will first be tried for the Lamont murder, if he is held for both crimes.

The prison authorities are confident that Durrant's friends bring him drugs, but there is no law to warrant the searching of visitors at the place of detention, although the rule is different at the county jail. It is believed that the use of drugs causes prisoners constant irritability. Durrant is treated with great courtesy by orders of Chief Crowley. This is the most comfortable cell in the prison. He has access to the adjoining bath-room. Visitors are allowed to see him at all times. He is not thrown into contact with other inmates.

Elmer Wolfe says he will sue for libel papers that have connected him with the murder. The police say it is impossible that Wolfe is implicated in any way.

THE BRITISH OCCUPY CORINTO. The Town Deserted by the Inhabitants. WASHINGTON, April 27.—The British occupy Corinto. The British flag was raised over the city landing at 1 o'clock this morning. The Nicaraguan population and all Government officials vacated the town, leaving it completely in the possession of the British troops. The belief had been entertained by the Administration that Nicaragua would pay, thereby obviating the landing of troops.

COTON, April 27.—Information has reached here from Corinto that a British warship has been so stationed as to bombard the town should the Nicaraguan force offer any resistance. Corinto is almost deserted, as its bombardment is generally expected.

WILL DECLARE FOR FREE SILVER. Illinois Democracy Split on the Gold Standard. CHICAGO, April 27.—The most sensational political development for many days in Chicago, if not in the entire West, was made public this afternoon. The coming Democratic State Convention in Illinois will, beyond all doubt, declare for free silver without international agreement of any kind, and the movement is of such strength that other Western and Southern States will be prevented, with great difficulty, if at all, from following the lead of Illinois. As a party, the Democracy of Illinois is doomed to disorganization. John M. Palmer, Jr., is the authority for this statement.

Murdered by a Woman. NEW YORK, April 27.—Dominico Catello was murdered on East Thirteenth street to-day by an unknown woman. The pair evidently met by appointment. After talking a moment the woman slashed the man across the throat with a razor. His head was nearly severed and death was almost instantaneous. The woman fled but was caught. Catello was 28 years old. It is stated that he was the woman's former lover and had discarded her.

Wilde and Taylor. LONDON, April 27.—The trial of Oscar Wilde and Alfred Taylor was resumed. There was a crowded court-room. Alfred Wood, who gave revolting testimony regarding his relations with Oscar, was cross-examined by the latter's counsel, but his evidence was unshaken. Frederick Atkins, the variety actor, testified against Taylor and his unlawful acts.

England to Back Japan. SHANGHAI, April 27.—It is semi-officially reported that England will support Japan, which will refuse to listen to the remonstrances of the other Powers regarding treaty terms of peace with China, which give the Japanese possession of Chinese territory. The condition of affairs between Russia and Japan look serious.

Explosion in a Coal Mine. EDINBURGH, April 27.—An explosion occurred to-day in a coal pit at Denny, near Sterling, thirty miles from this place. There were 177 men in it. Thirteen were killed.

DYKE BURST IN FRANCE. Many Lives Lost and the Damage to Property Very Great. EPINAL, France, April 27.—The enormous dyke burst at 5 o'clock this morning. The cubic area of the dyke is eight million metres. A great rush of water followed from the canal connected with the dyke. There is a heavy loss of life. So far thirty-eight corpses have been recovered. The damage to property is tremendous. Many adjacent villages were entirely flooded. Entire houses were swept away. Large trees were torn up by the roots. The breach was caused by rushing waters over one hundred metres broad. Many families are still in danger.

A Barroom Shooting Affray. HOLLYSTER, April 27.—David Lahiff, a prominent youth, entered a saloon intoxicated this morning. Some words passed with the barkeeper, Charles Mansfield, son of Rev. Delos Mansfield, a San Jose clergyman. Mansfield ordered Lahiff out. The latter knocked Mansfield down, and the barkeeper shot Lahiff twice, in the arm and shoulder. It is believed Lahiff will recover. Mansfield is in jail.

Nitro-glycerine Explosion. PORT WYNE, Ind., April 27.—William Ullmer started yesterday morning from Bluffton to the Montpelier oil fields with 720 quarts of nitro-glycerine in a wagon. Two miles from Bluffton the wagon upset and an explosion occurred. Ullmer and the horses were blown to atoms. The shock was plainly felt in this city, twenty-five miles from the explosion.

A Faithless Wife Killed. CINCINNATI, April 27.—A Times-Star special from Sidney, Ohio, says: Some nights ago Mrs. John Verhite was captured in a raid on a disreputable house. Her husband was away from home at the time. Yesterday he returned and went to the jail to see her. He walked to her cell and shot her through the heart. He escaped.

Now is the Time. S. Emrich is selling his capes, jackets and children's cloaks at prices regardless of cost in order to clear his stock. He is also selling blankets, dress goods and other dry and fancy goods at proportionately low figures. Now is the time to get bargains.

TEXAS, as well as Kentucky and Illinois, is agitated by the silver question, and a division is threatened, in the Democratic ranks; the gold men going with Cleveland and the silver men against him. The free and unlimited coinage of gold and silver at the ratio of 16 to 1, is the dominant issue throughout the country and the Presidential election will be fought on that line. Financial planks in National platforms that can be construed to mean free coinage in the West and the very opposite in the East, will not go very far.

The New York Journal of Commerce says the advocates of free silver are blatant barroom loafers, with no more knowledge of finance than orang outangs. The Journal of Commerce is one of the papers that indorses Sherman and Reed, just the same as our Republican contemporaries in Nevada.

CURE FOR BLOOD, PURE BLOOD, CLEAR SKIN, HEAD, MENTAL ENERGY, SOUND SLEEP, LONG LIFE, VITALITY, STRONG NERVES. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA. M. Hammer, a well-known business man of Hillsboro, Va., sends this testimony to the merits of Ayer's Sarsaparilla: "Several years ago, I hurt my leg, the injury leaving a sore which led to erysipelas. My sufferings were extreme, my leg from the knee to the ankle, being a solid sore, which began to extend to other parts of the body. After trying various remedies, I began taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and before I had finished the first bottle, I experienced great relief; the second bottle effected a complete cure."

THE COCONA TOILET SPECIALTIES are manufactured only by the Cocona Company. FOR SALE BY WM. PINNIGER. ONE WAY TO LIVE CHEAPLY. A Scheme That Was Developed by Gallant Colonel Wilk. Joseph Tanski, the Polish refugee, narrates many stories of the shifts to which he and his fellow exiles were compelled to resort in order to keep soul and body together. None of these is more curious and interesting than one relating to his friend, Colonel Wilk, who had been decorated by the emperor of the French for gallant service in the French army, but who afterward found himself obliged to live upon 60 francs a month. It was pretty tight work, and so Colonel Wilk had to confess, but one day he met with a strange bit of good fortune. He had been out for a walk and was on his way home when a big Newfoundland dog came running down the street, pursued by a gang of boys and men, all armed with sticks. The dog, panting and terrified, ran straight toward Colonel Wilk and took refuge between his feet. The crowd drew near with loud and excited shouts. "It is a mad dog! Kill him!" A policeman, more courageous than the mob, stepped forward. "Halt!" shouted the knight of the Legion of Honor. "The dog belongs to me. It is not mad." His resolute air and parlance the red ribbon in his buttonhole made an impression upon the policeman. "Very well," he said, "since the dog is yours, lead him away." So said, so done. Colonel Wilk took the dog home, washed and combed it, and then went with it to the butcher's to buy it some scraps of meat. For 25 centimes the butcher gave him a fine lot, and on his way home Wilk bought a few vegetables. All these bits—bits of meat, bones and vegetables—he put into a pot together with a suitable quantity of water, and out of the pot both he and the dog made a sumptuous dinner. The problem of living was solved. Day after day, as often as his purse ran low, which was pretty often, he bought bits of meat "for his dog." Nobody was the wiser, and the Polish exile and his dog lived upon 25 centimes a day, and the knight of the Legion of Honor could once more receive his friends like a man of the world. Mezzofanti's Memory. Cardinal Mezzofanti had a memory little short of miraculous. Dr. Russell, an biographer, says that the cardinal spoke with the greatest ease 30 languages, that he spoke fairly well 9; that he used occasionally, but not with any fluency, 11 more; that he spoke imperfectly 8, and that he could read 11 more. Taking, in addition, the number of dialects he used, some so diverse from the mother tongue as to constitute a different language, Dr. Russell says that the cardinal was master of no less than 111 different languages and dialects. His German was so excellent that he was taken for a native of Germany, while his French and English were equally pure. Dr. Tholuck heard him converse in German, Arabic, Spanish, Flemish, English, Latin, Greek, Swedish and Portuguese at one of the pope's receptions, and afterward Mezzofanti gave him an original poem in Persian and left him to take a lesson in Cornish. He knew several of the American Indian languages and nearly all the dialects of India. Only His Buttons Left. An instance of the great dissolving powers of sulphuric acid is furnished by an accident which recently occurred in the chemical factories at Mulhouse, Alsace. An operative was blown up into the air and fell into a trough filled about three feet deep with sulphuric acid, the temperature of which was found to be 91 degrees C. ten hours after the accident. The death of the man was only proved by the discovery of his caoutchouc respirator, mauls, two porcelain buttons and other insoluble articles. Everything else had chemically combined with the acid.—London Engineer. Oscar Wilde. Oscar Wilde is a walking epigram factory. THE OATON MINT PROBLEM.
Fifth Day of the Jones Preliminary Examination—Melter and Refiner Harris on the Stand—Scales—Pioneers.
CARSON, April 27, 1895.

The Jones mint examination was resumed at 10 A. M. with Melter and Refiner Harris on the stand. The same lot of brilliant, twenty-five shoe bars of 200 ounces each, was brought over from the mint including the Savage melt and the famous spurious or "counterfeit melt" for use if required in illustration.

THAT DUPLICATE KEY.
Mr. Harris was again questioned with regard to that duplicate key of the refinery which he had at first stated that he had found in or on Jones's desk. It was found by T. Dolan, a helper, who gave it to "Doc" O'Toole, who subsequently gave it to Harris. It was found in clearing out a vault among some books.

SCALES TAMPERED WITH.
In June, 1894, Mr. Harris stated, the transferring of the bullion from the weighing and receiving room to the melting and refining room was commenced, and for three weeks thereafter the scales seemed to be tampered with, almost every morning being found to overweigh about an ounce in a thousand ounces, having to be corrected before work could be proceeded with. They finally got so badly out of fix that a skilled mechanic had to be called for who soon had them in complete order again. But they did not stay so, next morning being found defective as before. Mr. Harris then caused it to be slyly reported about the mint that special spotters were placed on watch to detect the culprit, and the result was that the scales behaved all right from that on.

MELTING AND REFINING.
Mr. Harris testified that the original melt, not the spurious one, came to him straight, through the usual channel and would not state that Jones told him that he received it from Superintendent Hofer.

Thomas Connors of the assaying department, and George Cagwin testified respectively relative to the regular routine work in the refinery and assaying departments.

Pearis Ellis, clerk, testified on examination of the settlements of the last five years referred to him, that he had seen nothing of them from first to last in them, and even now, to excite suspicion and saw no reason for believing that Mr. Jones had even falsified a melt or sample of any kind. Both Ellis and Cagwin testified to the possibility of Jones doing so, but did not believe he ever had.

Witnesses also testified to their belief in the strict honor and integrity of Zabriskie, the former Melter and Refiner.

A bullet hole found in the lead flooring of the refinery, was testified to by Connors as having been made by Kennedy, night watchman, six or eight months ago. He was passing there one night with his lantern in one hand and pistol cocked in the other when he slipped and fell, and his pistol going off the hole was made in the floor. It was stated at first that he had shot at a man skulking about the refinery, but that was not so.

On motion of the prosecution the Court adjourned till Monday at 10 A. M. It was thought that the examination would conclude to-day, but it could not be done.

PIONEERS IN THE OTHER WORLD.

This morning Uncle Bill Gibson, Farmer Treadway and myself happened to meet on the sidewalk in front of the Arlington. It's not often that three such old pioneers accidentally drop into each other's company, there's so few of us left, so we exchanged fraternal pleasantries incidental to the occasion and compared notes.

"I had a jolly good seance the other night, boys," says Uncle Bill. "Old Judge Will Campbell, who you recollect was among the best members of our society up at Virginia and died years ago, appeared to me natural as life, and we talked together over the good old style. By and by I says, 'How is it, Will, do the old pioneers hold regular meetings in the other world same as we used to?' Have they got any halls there?"

"Oh yes, we hold meetings, but don't need no hall. Just imagine a big, handsome space about two miles square where the old boys herd in together like a picnic and have plenty of the old time enjoyments improved upon. But we only hold meetings when a fresh arrival stirs up the festivities properly. Then comes the roll call, but that grows shorter all the time, as it is only the roll of those yet to come in. It don't take long now."

"Old Doc McMeans is our President, same as he was at Virginia, and we are looking for Bob Taylor and other noted old boys before long. We'll have a hall of a good time when you come." Alf Doten.

THE INTER-STATE COMMERCE COMMISSION.

A Number of the Citizens of Reno Forward a Letter to the Commission at Denver.

Wm. Thompson is determined to give the Inter-State Commerce Commission an opportunity to look into the oppression practiced by the S. P. R. R. Co. With this in view he has forwarded the following letter to the Commission at Denver, signed by some of our most prominent men, and it will give the Commission an opportunity to investigate the complaints: Reno, Nevada, April 25, 1895.

Chairman Morrison and Members of the Inter-State Commission, Denver—GENTLEMEN: We, the undersigned citizens of Nevada, a committee acting in behalf of the people of Nevada, do respectfully ask that your honorable body, on your journey westward, stop one day in the town of Reno, and there, where the facts can be shown in a few hours time, listen to the complaint of a people oppressed by unjust, exorbitant and discriminating rates of transportation, whose oppression your office permits you to alleviate and perhaps to end. We merely ask to be heard.

THE FISH LAW.

What the Supreme Court Says About It.

In the Supreme Court of the State of Nevada ex-parte Frederick Hewlett, petitioner, original proceedings, application for writ of habeas corpus, Torreyson and Summerfield, attorneys for petitioner; F. H. Norcross, District Attorney of Washoe county, and R. M. Beatty, Attorney-General, attorneys for respondent, the Court refuses the writ.

Syllabus, BY BIGELOW, C. J.

1. Where the title states that the subject of an Act is to amend one section of a former statute, the Act cannot be extended to the amendment of other sections.

2. Where the sections of an Act are so separate and independent that one section can be made to operate in accordance with the intention of the Legislature without the aid of the others, and the invalid sections should not have constituted any inducement to pass the first, the Courts will sustain that section although the other sections are unconstitutional.

3. Stats. of Nev. 1895, 83, provides that trout shall not be caught from October of each year to June of each year. Held, that the intention of the Legislature was to forbid the catching of trout from October of one year to June of the next year.

4. Where there is a conflict between the provisions of the same Act, and there is nothing else to indicate which the Legislature intended to be in force, the latest in position will control.

5. Where an Act forbids the catching of trout from the rivers of a State, and also from the lakes, even if the provision as to the lakes is so self-contradictory that it cannot be enforced, this will not invalidate the provision against catching from the rivers.

BACK TAXES.

The Railroad Company to Pay Over $4,000 Into the Treasury.

District Attorney Norcross who has been pushing the collection of back taxes due from the Southern Pacific to Washoe county, received the following yesterday:

SAN FRANCISCO, April 27, 1895.
F. H. Norcross, District Attorney, Reno, Nevada:—Will you accept certified checks in lieu of coin in settlement of taxes for 1887 and 1888. If so I will come up early next week and settle C. P. R. R. taxes for the years mentioned. [Signed:] G. W. BAKER.

District Attorney Norcross answered that the certified checks would be accepted, so next week the treasury of Washoe county will be enriched to the extent of $4,000 from the railroad company's big purse.

State Treasurer Westerfield came over from Carson on the local yesterday and returned by private conveyance.

During the progress of "tea" at the Parochial School on May Day the children of the school will entertain the guests with recitations, songs and the winding of the May pole.

Skinner, the photographer, is prepared to do anything in his line, from taking the smallest baby's picture to a whole family or a picture of the home-stead. His prices are very reasonable.

R. R. Parkinson (Deacon) and daughter, Miss Emma, were passengers for San Francisco last evening. They will remain there a few days and other members of the family will join them and they will proceed to Seattle by steamer. Mr. Parkinson is in very poor health.

THE VALUE OF GYPSUM.

Abundance of the Mineral in Nevada. In no portion of the world is gypsum, that is sulphate of lime, found in such abundant quantities as it is in Nevada. Possibly when the value of this article is made known and it becomes a great factor of the world's commerce, these deposits may be a source of great wealth to the State. One of our agricultural exchanges has the following, showing the value of gypsum: As fertilizer and neutralizer of black alkali it has no equal. It is also known that it is death to the weevil, but the good uses to which it can be put have never been half told.

"Sprinkle it freely in the stalls of your barn and it will prevent the flies from bothering your horses. That is your barn will not draw flies. Furthermore, it absorbs and retains the ammonia in the manure and thereby enhances its value as a fertilizer, as well as making a good deodorizer. It makes a good insecticide. Whether as a free wash it will kill scale requires demonstration, but the chances are it will do away with most of the enemies of plant life if freely used about garden and orchard. It is a downright boon to poultry men. Have a box of it where your hens and chickens can swallow it and it will keep them free from lice and mites of all kinds." Genoa Courier.

District Court.

Judge Cheney rendered an opinion yesterday in the case of Lachman vs. McNis. The judgment was in favor of defendant, the plaintiff having to pay costs of suit. The court held that a continuing chattel mortgage, i. e., a mortgage upon personality which is to be sold and replaced in the course of business, is invalid as against creditors. That such a transaction between parties, though in good faith is constructive fraud in law against all creditors. The decision is an important one as it covers points that are liable to occur at any time, and a decision by the Supreme Court on this question would be of great value.

The case of Cooper vs. Clarke was dismissed by agreement of parties to the suit.

The case of the State vs. Leeper and Gafford will be called up Monday. It is expected that Gafford will be brought over from the State Prison to appear.
